

Karen Starrett

Karen is an abstract painter. In her process of painting, geometric forms morph into objects with human characteristics creating a distinct imagery. The strong and wide range of color defines the mood of each painting. Karen's artist credits include being a juried member of the National Association of Women Artists, acceptance as a Noyes Museum Signature Artist and an Exhibiting Artist at the Guild for Creative Arts. She has had solo exhibits at the Johnson and Johnson Headquarters and additional regional galleries, and frequently exhibits in group shows. Karen's work has been exhibited at The Belskie Museum and at the Monmouth Museum, where her painting and sculpture have received awards.

Starrett is also a teaching artist for older adults. As a working artist, certified art teacher and dementia practitioner she facilitates art workshops in adult care communities. Her love of personal imagery and the use of paint, paper, and mixed media as the foundation of her curriculum, is a continuation of her life as an artist.
