

George Hess

Formerly a resident of New York City and currently living in Red Bank, New Jersey, George Hess is an architectural illustrator.

He studied at the Fashion Institute of Technology and the School of Visual Arts and spent several years as a textile designer and stylist before moving on to a career in graphic design. He worked in many agencies designing books, magazines, corporate audio visuals, ads and websites, and was a designer for the NYC Housing Authority for fifteen years.

He has since started his own design firm specializing in paintings and illustrations for builders and realtors and along with his career in commercial art, he paints and enjoys participating in shows in the tri-state area.
